CUSTODY / LIVING SITUATION

Consistent with Pennsylvania law and guidance from Pa. Psychological Association, for children 13 and under, the individuals or entity with legal custody of the child must provide consent before psychological treatment is provided. If two or more individuals share legal custody of the child, our office requires consent from all guardians. Youth 14+ can consent to their own treatment and control their treatment records. Authorization is needed from the client or legal guardian (depending on client age) before we can release any information to Children & Youth Services.
