Default ROI Caregiver for Ages 14-17

AUTHORIZATION TO RELEASE INFORMATION TO CAREGIVER, FOR CLIENTS AGES 14-17

When it comes to mental health care in Pennsylvania, clients ages 14+ are in many ways treated like adults. If you have provided consent to treatment, you then have control over where and with whom our office can share information about your therapy.

However, our office policy is that we must be able to communicate with your parent(s), caregiver(s) or guardian(s) about some basic information. This is information that we need in order to coordinate services. This includes:

—Scheduling and attendance at therapy: We need to be able to disclose whether you are receiving therapy at our office and coming to appointments.

—Billing: A responsible adult must sign the Financial Responsibility Agreement before therapy begins. We need to be able to talk to that person, if there are issues with payment or insurance.

By default, your parent, caregiver, or legal guardian will also serve as your emergency contact. If you would like a different adult to be your emergency contact, please let your therapist know.

Besides the information listed above, what is shared will depend on what you and your therapist decide together. Your therapist will not share other information about your therapy without your permission.

If you wish to revoke or change this authorization, you must to notify your therapist. If you sign an additional authorization form to share information with one of the people list above, it will not replace this authorization form.

I understand the information above and I give Campbell Psychological Services permission to share information about attendance, scheduling, and billing with:

—my parents or caregivers

—my legal guardian(s), if different from my parents/caregivers

—the adult who signed the Financial Responsibility Agreement

I give Campbell Psychological Services permission to contact my caregivers, parents, and/or legal guardians in the case of a clinical crisis or other emergency.
